SQAT6322 ICE Task 4 - Anonymised Assessment Example

Module: Software Quality and Testing | Task: Mamelodi Regional Hospital HMS | Maximum: 25 marks

Evidence note: The accompanying response is a real student submission with the identifying cover removed. The feedback and scores below were prepared retrospectively for this ePortfolio example and have not been verified as the student's originally recorded or previously communicated grade.

Criterion-by-criterion marking

Assessment criterion	Mark	Lecturer feedback
CMMI maturity levels and relevant healthcare examples	10 / 10	Accurate treatment of all five maturity levels, with specific links to hospital-system testing and quality management.
Infographic appearance and organisation	5 / 5	The infographic is clearly structured, readable and uses a logical progression from Initial to Optimizing.
Advantages of test automation in the case study	6 / 6	You explain relevant automation benefits and apply them to registration, regression, performance and connected hospital modules.
Importance of test documentation	4 / 4	You explain evidence, traceability, communication and audit value, with a relevant patient-data security example.
TOTAL MARK	25 / 25

Overall constructive feedback

You demonstrate a strong understanding of software testing processes and have applied the theory meaningfully to the hospital case study. Your infographic communicates the five CMMI maturity levels effectively, and your discussion of test automation and documentation is relevant to the healthcare setting. For your next task, strengthen the discussion by naming specific deliverables such as a requirements traceability matrix, defect log and test execution report. Also check question numbering carefully before submitting.

Teaching reflection: This example illustrates how a case-based ICE activity can assess conceptual understanding, written technical reasoning and visual communication. For the award submission, replace or supplement this retrospective example with a dated original marking record or LMS feedback screenshot to demonstrate that feedback was actually delivered and how promptly.
